

Fire Retardant Case Study

As you can see by the photo the cheap alternative marquee is a total right off and the roof has been totally blackened inside and out. This means that the material has actually set on fire. If you look at the Gala Tent™ there is no blackening of the material, which means it, has not set on fire, this is industry standard for outdoor events.

“Further to my telephone conversation of the 1st. April please see photos related to the vandalized fire damaged marquees. You are welcome to use these as it shows the benefit of using fire retardant treated covers for you clients”

Yours Sincerely,
Mike Latchem.
